

Working Better Together Conference on Indigenous Research Ethics

Dear Colleagues,

The Working Better Together Conference on Indigenous Research Ethics takes place in Vancouver from Feb 19-20.

This SSHRC-sponsored event brings together community-engaged academic and community researchers, educators, practitioners, policy analysts and research administrators to explore working collaboratively in Indigenous research.

Please share this email with others who may be interested in this unique opportunity to learn from and with many of the top scholars and practitioners in Canada on the philosophy, policy and practice of Indigenous research ethics.

Space is limited.
